

A portrait of Wade Hinton, a Black man with a shaved head, smiling. He is wearing a dark suit jacket, a light blue dress shirt, and a striped tie. The background features a large blue steel truss bridge, likely the Chattanooga Bridge, with a cityscape and greenery visible in the distance under a clear sky.

Compassionate, Inspiring, Visionary, and Change Agent are just a few traits that describe Wade Hinton. A native of Chattanooga, Tennessee, Wade was appointed as the City Attorney and General Counsel of the most innovative cities in the Southeast.

As Chattanooga's Chief Legal Officer, Wade and his team represent the Mayor, City Council, and the City's departments, boards and commissions on all legal issues. During his tenure, the City has successfully litigated a precedent setting pension reform case that is projected to save the City of Chattanooga over $228 million over a 10-year period. Prior to his appointment as the City Attorney, he served as Deputy General Counsel for Volkswagen Group of America Chattanooga Operations.
